This is a small tribute site for fans of the late John Peel to come and hang out and share time with others. I have been a fan since the latter 70's and was deeply saddened by his passing.

The site is still a little quirky as I try and figure out how to use the CMS software, so please bear with it. I encourage you to leave me feedback for any trouble spots you find or any improvements you can suggest. You can register for the site or send me an email at madeofale@peelacres.com. Thanks for stopping by...
